FREE ADMISSION FOR RENDITION

Since 2001, after the attacks of 9/11 the Government of the United States started its so called extraordinary rendition program that was secretly ruled out by the CIA and supported by divers countries in the EU and Africa. „Suspected“ Inhabitants of various countries got captured, and transported to prisons around the globe. Often these People (woman, children and man) got tortured for months or even vanished till today. Nobody knows the exact amount of people who got deported or know exactly which countries were involved in those illegal actions. The only thing we know is that the most European governments knew about this rendition program in advance and were only pretending to be surprised when the media began to cover this story.

Today the rendition program has been officially shut down but there are lots of coverages about the continuing of kidnapping „suspected“ civilians .

The Project „Free admission for rendition“ can be seen as a public advertisement that addresses the public, pretending to look out for support for this program. It's a kind of an „call and win“- commercial that is pulling this shady, secret government-crime into the light of the public and questioning its acceptance.

On the other hand the parked “billboard-Van” on the street of Riga will have a quite normal appearance- It's just a Van next to the pavement that might come from some weird road show.
